RE: Substance Use Disorder Program Support

Dr. Franks,

On behalf of the Mason County Commission, I am writing to express enthusiastic support for the Marshall University Joan C. Edwards School of Medicine in addressing the critical issue of substance use disorder within our community. Substance use disorder continues to impact the health, safety, and well-being of families throughout Mason County, and we recognize the importance of creating comprehensive, sustainable solutions to confront this challenge.

The collaboration between Marshall School of Medicine and local stakeholders represents a valuable opportunity to improve the health outcomes for our residents. By leveraging the expertise and resources of the School of Medicine, we can develop the necessary infrastructure and support systems to provide high-quality, long-term care for individuals suffering from addiction. We are excited about the prospect of working alongside the Marshall School of Medicine and other community partners to build programs that are sustainable and tailored to the needs of our community.

We look forward to meeting again in the future to further discuss how the Mason County Commission can contribute to these efforts and provide the necessary support to make this vision a reality. We are confident that by working in partnership, we can address substance use disorders effectively and create lasting, positive change in Mason County.
